

This is America isn't it? I thought the whole premis of living in America was that we were free to choose what we do, what we say, & what we want? If I wish to pay for satellite radio, then I should have the right to do so. That is what is so great about this subject. If I don't want XM then I don't have to subscribe, BUT I choose to do so, that my life can fuller and more enriched.Sincerely, Scott A. Young
